The screenshot shows a Shopify page editor interface. On the left is a sidebar with sections: 'Default page', 'Header', 'Template', and 'Footer'. The 'Template' section is active, showing 'Page' and 'Featured collection' options. The main workspace displays a preview of a 'Featured collection' page. At the top, there's a search bar and a navigation menu with 'Vrrrt', 'Home', 'New', 'Dresses', 'Catalog', and 'Contact'. A dropdown menu is open over the 'New' link, listing various site sections like 'Home page', 'Products', 'Collections', 'Gift card', 'Cart', 'Checkout and customer accounts', 'Pages', 'Blogs', 'Blog posts', 'Search', and 'Password'. A dark speech bubble with the text 'Click Pages' points to the 'Pages' option in the dropdown. Below the navigation, the 'Featured collection' section contains a grid of four dress products with their names and images.
